

CONTROLLED F.O.R.C.E.

TRANSFER OF CERTIFICATION

Dear Controlled F.O.R.C.E. Certified Departmental Instructor,

Thank you for looking to Controlled F.O.R.C.E. to help you achieve your Close Quarters Subject Control training goals. As you know, we take great effort to provide a system of subject control that falls well within the use of force policies of agencies across the nation. One of the ways we strive to maintain the integrity of a system of training that is recognized and/or approved by POST or State commissions in 17 states and is utilized in over 40 states, is to document and track all certified departmental instructors.

Having certified over 3400 departmental instructors since 1997, not to mention the hundreds of thousands of officers trained in the system, keeping track of all Controlled F.O.R.C.E. certified instructors is a monumental task. We understand that officers can transfer to several different law enforcement agencies throughout their career. In order to track those officers that are transferring their skills and knowledge of the Controlled F.O.R.C.E. system, we have instituted a policy for certified departmental instructors that transfer agencies within the two-year certification term.

CONTROLLED F.O.R.C.E. TRANSFER POLICY

Any Controlled F.O.R.C.E. certified departmental instructor that transfers agencies within the two-year certification term must transfer their certification with the Controlled F.O.R.C.E. home office in order to teach the system to officers within their new agency.

JUSTIFICATION FOR TRANSFER POLICY

A) In order to maintain the integrity of the system and to provide support to those who are properly trained in the system, Controlled F.O.R.C.E. must track everyone who is certified to teach the system. By maintaining adequate documentation on everyone who may potentially be teaching the system to others, Controlled F.O.R.C.E. can be fully prepared to respond should an incident ever occur where Controlled F.O.R.C.E. is asked to support an officer based on his/her use of a Controlled F.O.R.C.E. technique.

B) By completing the certification transfer process, Controlled F.O.R.C.E. certified departmental instructors are providing proper documentation that their new agency approves of the system being used by their officers.

C) By completing the certification transfer process, Controlled F.O.R.C.E. certified departmental instructors are providing proper documentation that they are approved by their new agency to transfer their skills and knowledge of the system to other officers within the agency.
